Established in 1951, IOM is a Related Organization of the United Nations, and as the leading UN agency in the field of migration, works closely with governmental, intergovernmental and non-governmental partners. IOM is dedicated to promoting humane and orderly migration for the benefit of all. It does so by providing services and advice to governments and migrants.

Introduction: Established in 1951, the International Organization for Migration (IOM), the UN Migration Agency, is the leading inter-governmental organization in the field of migration and works closely with governmental, intergovernmental and non-governmental partners. IOM is dedicated to promoting humane and orderly migration for the benefit of all. It does so by providing services and advice to governments and migrants.

Project: “Enhancing the Socioeconomic Benefits of Remittances in Azerbaijan”

Project Context and Scope: The IDF-funded “Enhancing the Socioeconomic Benefits of Remittances in Azerbaijan” project aims to contribute towards greater financial inclusion and use of digital financial services among Azerbaijani migrants abroad, migrants in Azerbaijan, and remittance recipients in Azerbaijan/abroad to support sustainable livelihood development.

This aim will be achieved by (1) assessing, with relevant gender considerations, current remittance flows, related practices and services, existing national legislative framework, and policies; (2) developing and validating a stakeholder analysis and mapping, as well as a roadmap for establishing an innovative digital remittances system; (3) piloting or analysing an existing digital remittance application and disseminating lessons learned for further actions and sustainability.

Objectives of the consultancy: IOM is seeking a national expert to support an international expert leading a comprehensive analysis and mapping of all stakeholders related to establishing / improving an innovative digital remittance system in Azerbaijan. The main purpose of this exercise is to get a better understanding of all stakeholders, their activities, their connections, and gaps that may exist in coordination. Analysis and mapping of stakeholders will help IOM Azerbaijan and its government counterparts to implement in the best way possible a roadmap to be developed on establishing / improving an innovative digital remittance system while preventing legal, social and gender related gaps and ensuring no duplication of efforts are taking place.

The national expert, taking due consideration of project budget and timelines, together with the international expert will develop a draft workplan and methodology including specific tools to be used, for stakeholder analysis and mapping. Based on an assessment to be prepared in the due course regarding the existing practices and policies of the Republic of Azerbaijan on remittances and consumption models of remittances, as well as additional desk review, the national expert will support the international expert in identifying primary and secondary stakeholders among government agencies, private sector and commercial banks, international actors, donors, political actors, public sector agencies, interest groups, non-governmental organizations, and civil society groups, as well as significant individuals and people affected by the issue. (S)he will support the international expert in assessing roles, mandates, objectives, and key activities of these stakeholders, including possible overlaps, as well as in determining their concerns and interests. In this regard, the national expert will also prepare a document depicting roles, mandates, objectives, and key activities, as well as concerns and interests of each stakeholder, along with stakeholders' contact list. If deemed necessary, the national expert will support the international expert in preparing interview protocol and questions, will translate questions, organize interviews, and support in analysis of interview results. Furthermore, (s)he will assist the international expert in using mapping tools to show degree of importance, influence, and current position of the various stakeholders in the process of establishing / improving an innovative digital remittance system. The national expert is also expected to support the international expert in developing recommendations for establishing / improving an innovative digital remittance system, as well as for influencing, negotiation and advocacy strategies based on stakeholder analysis and mapping. The national expert will assist the international expert in preparation of presentation materials. Additionally, the national expert will be responsible for performing other relevant tasks, as requested by the international expert and IOM Azerbaijan.

The national expert will work under the supervision of the international expert. The IOM Regional Office in Vienna will provide support, if and as needed.

Tangible and measurable outputs of the work assignment: National expert will be hired to assist an international expert in delivering stakeholder analysis & mapping and presenting its findings on a two-installment payment basis.
